This side event will review findings of the Cluster Munition Monitor 2023. This 14th annual report covers the calendar year 2022 with information up to mid-2023, where available. It details cluster munition ban policy, use, production, transfers, and stockpiling globally. The report also contains information on the impact of cluster munition contamination and casualties, as well as developments and challenges in addressing such impact through clearance, risk education and victim assistance.
